A very rare find in quaint Smithsburg, Maryland. This lovely home exudes historical charm and tranquility. A corner lot and set back off the road, the home has lovely front, side, and back garden spaces. Stunning mature trees and truly a park-like feel, low maintenance landscaping, shed, off-street parking, privacy fencing, stone patio and walkways, and more. From the moment you step into the foyer on the gleaming hardwood floors you will feel how special this home truly is. The home has a rich history and is mentioned in the publication Walking Tour Town of Smithsburg. The age is recorded as 1900 but records date it back to possibly 1829. The home has been upgraded to all electric heat and air conditioning with a half bath on the main level and a full, custom bath with walk-in tiled shower on the second floor. There are three bedrooms with the third being on the uppermost floor and having a lovely sitting area and rustic wood plank flooring. The true pine paneled family room could be a home office, guest suite, artists retreat, playroom, craft room, or whatever your lifestyle commands. There are exposed original brick walls throughout the house and the home is all brick. The basement is accessed from this room or via the outside entrance. This level is neat as a pin and features a large decorative fireplace, laundry, and large storage/workshop space. This home offers so much more; plan your visit to see if this home is right for
